DAILY COURIER. A Novel Illuminating Gas Apparatus.—Ever THURSDAY,.....JANUARY 13, 1859.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY: THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 13, 1859.

Reading Matter on every page. THE LATE MAIL ROBBERIES .- We have mentioned that special agent T. P. Shallcross arrested Tandy Clark, who had been connected with the been placed before the public, yet in all we have posterfice at Franklin, Ky., for depredations on the mails. The case was partially investigated in the U. S. District Court, at Frankfort, last week, and will be concluded within a few days .--The proof of his guilt is said to be positive. Mr. Shallcross is entitled to the highest praise for his nanagement of the matter.

It seems that twenty-five or thirty robberies call teen committed recently, by which several nousat .s of dollars were lost, and a considerable mount of jewelry and other valuables. A draft for $28,000 sent by a pork firm here, was also weeks in investigating the case, was satisfied that the robberies were committed in the Franklin The more carbon contained in an oil, office. He next obtained information that the accused was spending money profusely, and beyond his means, in dissipating and gambling, and inally he discovered that watches lost from the nails had been sold by Clark. Having his proof, he of course then promptly arrested him. No one in Franklin but Shalleross, it is stated, doubted the honesty of the young man.

THEATER. - Fauny Kemble Butler's beautiful play, "The Duke's Wager," was presented last night in fine style. Mrs. Hayne is celebrated in the character of Gabrielle, and her personation of the part last evening was highly acceptable to her many friends. Mr. Keeble, Mr. Dickson, the fair Miss Ida Vernou, and Miss Scheuck, were unexceptionable in their respective characters. The pas styrien, executed by Miss Milly Peters and Mr. G. II. Gilbert, was really good. Under the tuition of Mr. Gilbert, Miss Peters exhibits an improvement we are gratified to see. Mr. Gilbert has few rivals on the stage in his arduous but Mrs. Hayne appears to-night in "Love, or the Countess and the Serf.'

MUMFORD & NELSON'S ROTATE WASHING TUB. We would call the attention of the citizens of Louisville and vicinity to this most excellent washer. We have tried it in our family for the last five or six weeks, and find it answers every purpose that one could desire in a washing appa-The principle is simple and easily understood. There is but little rubbing or wearing of clothes. You also save one-half the soap and twothirds of the time and labor. It is also peculiarly adapted to washing the collars and wristbands of shirts, and the finest of wearing apparel that is worn, without injury to the clothes. The originators, G. Collius & Co., propose to give all and every one a trial, and if they do not like them, they will take them back. Office south side of

We beg to correct this local, who beat the parent in giving birth to her own child. It is true she was in an interesting predicament on the night in question, but the youngster concluded not to apear until Wednesday morning. We haven't doubt he held back just to spite the enterprising local; and it serves him right, for meddling in a vonian's business. ENGLISH OPERA.-We were glad to see the beginning of a just appreciation of this most excellent troupe, at their performance of the "Bo hemian Girl" last night. Our musical public have been slow in fluding out how much merit they possess, but they will now show that they can understand and appreciate their singing. We trust that the attendance will be so large on the coming evenings of this week, that the company will be induced to remain a short time beyond their announced engagement. To-night they give the opera of La Somnam

GRAND CONCERT AT MASONIC TEMPLE. - The grand concert for the benefit of M'llc Bertha Colliere, will be given at Masonie Temple to-night. She will be assisted by Mons. The programme contains a selection of such choice music, that the concert cannot fail to win the commendation of all, who delight in

THE STABBING CASE-SCOTT DEAD .- It will be remembered that I'at Donelly, a youth, stabbed Pat Scott on Christmas day, while crazy from the effects of liquor. Donelly was merely held for a misdemeanor at the time, as no malice was shown, and it was thought Scott would recover. The wounded man lingered until Tuesday night, and died, and Donelly was re-arrested. He was in court resterday, but the absence of witnesses pre vented a further investigation of the case.

How to RISE IN THE WORLD .- The subject of Prof. Fowler's lecture to night is, What to Do, or the Application of Phrenology to the Choice of the most Appropriate Occupation or Pursuit in Life; pointing out those avocations to which each person is best adapted, and in which he may, or may not, best succeed. A very useful lecture. During the day, Prof. Fowler may be consulted professionally in the gentlemen's parlor at the Louisville Hotel.

STRAKOSCH'S MUSICAL FESTIVAL - The sale of the reserved seats for the grand musical festival, which is to take place on Monday next, will commence on Saturday morning, January 15th, at the music store of Messrs. D. P. Faulds & Co., Main street. The price of tickets is fixed at the low rate of one dollar, and no extra charge for reserved seats. For particulars see announcement in our amusement column.

PORK PACKING .- In our commercial summary are given the corrected returns from various packing points. It appears that the packing at 142 places, including Keoknk, Iowa, shows an increase of 84,760 hogs this season as compared was cut up by Louis Rehm the other day. The fat was full four inches on the ribs. The bullock was Shelby fed, and weighed 2,450 pounds, costing 6 cents per ponnd.

FROM CALIFORNIA .- The St. Louis Republican.

it presents few features of interest other than the telegraphic report.

since the introduction of coal gas as an illuminating agent, various have been the attempts to invent some apparatus by which the costly works and pipes necessary to manufacture and distribute coal gas would be done away with, and yet retain the safety, convenience and brilliant light of gas. Some of these inventions have seen heretofore, we have found some objections. Either the apparatus was too expensive to allow its general introduction, or the machines too com plicated to be readily understood and worked by servants; or, as is most generally the case, the ight was of much less strength than coal gas, and nuch more expensive. Now what is wanted is a ight equally as brilliant, cheap, safe and convenient as coal gas. The apparatus must be as simple as gas fixtures, and as little liable to get out of order. In order to accomplish these objects, it would be necessary to use some compound rich nissing. Mr. Shalleross, after spending some in carbon (the light-giving quality of all illuminating oils) without the aid of a chinney .the more light will it afford; and of course the light is diminished as the carbou is removed. Now, for example, there is an article in commerce known as burning fluid. This fluid contains a small proportion of carbon, and therefore affords but little light. Burning fluid is composed of four parts of alcohol and one part of camphene (spirits of turpentine). Cumphene contains nearly eighty parts in one hundred of carbon, and, therefore, when used in a lamp adapted to it, gives a powerful light. Alcohol, however, which forms four-fifths of the hulk of burning fluid, contains little or no carbon, and gives, when lighted, merely a blue flame. Thus it is evident that one gallon of camphene, in a properly constructed lamp, will give the light of five gallons of burning fluid. Camphene, however, is a difficult article to manage, and therefore we must turn our attention to another source. Coal oil, of late, has almost entirely superseded the use of camphene and burning fluid, yet the ordinary coal oil lumps have neither the convenience, beauty, nor cleanliness of coal gas. And this brings us hack to the apparatus which suggested this ar-

The Vesper coal oil gas-light apparatus, which we have recently examined, meets with our approval in every particular. The fixtures resemble those of coal gas precisely. No costly or complicated machinery is used to generate the gas .-The gas is generated and consumed in the burner, and the fixtures are adapted for use wherever artificial light is needed. A light coal oil, contain ing eighty per cent. carbon, is used as the illuminating agent, and by a simple and beautiful contrivance, the vapor of the oil is mingled with atmospheric air before it reaches the point of comoustion. By this contrivance a most perfect combustion of the vapor is effected, and the result is, a light more brilliant than even Louisville coal gas is produced. The light of the Vesper burner resembles daylight more than any other artificial light we ever saw, and above all, the cost of burning is slight, and the apparatus is quite as easily managed as coal gas fixtures. We were astonish ed when told that the Vesper burner would produce the light of one thousand cubic feet of gas for one dollar and fifty cents; yet, when its principles were explained, we understood at once how so bright a light could be produced at so small a eost, and, struck with its simplicity, we wondered why it had not been thought of before. The Vesper coal oil gas light, in our opinion, is destined o become an institution in the land, and in this we are supported by the evidence of several eminent chemists, who have given it a thorough examination, and who jointly prouounce it "the safest and best light now in use."

INAUGURATION OF THE JACKSON STATUE .- The statue of the great Andrew Jankson was in augurated at Memphis on the 8th of January with Jackson was a member, was very largely repre sented, comprising all the grades from Entered Apprentice to Knights Templars, the latter of whom were in full force, and presented a very handsome appearance in their rich und unique re galia. The Rev. G. P. Schetky acted as Grand Chaplain, and Most Worshipful Chas. Scott condueted the imposing ceremonies usual to the order. Hon. Andrew Ewing delivered the oration in the Varieties Theater, the dress circle of which hlazed with an effulgence of beauty richer and rarer than it often falls on the lot of man'to behold The Governor of the State and staff, clergy, old soldiers, marshals, etc., occupied the stage. After the oration, the procession again repaired to the court square, where the bust (having in the meantime been seated in its place) was revealed and an appropriate address made by Edward

Pickett, to which the Mayor responded. SAVANNAH RACES .- On the second day Fanny Washington beat Hempland in two straight heats -heavy betting on the result. The three mile ourse of $600 was won by Lizzie McDonald. beating Charley Ball and Gov. Wickliffe-the latter distanced the third heat. Time 5.57-5.57-5.5616. For the Colt stake for three year olds, Socks beat the "star" Virginia horse "Planet," who was never eclipsed before. He was the fa vorite at odds, and was distanced the second heat Time 1.51-1.521/2. On the same day Charley Ball beat Don Juan in mile heats. Time 1.531/4-1.511/4-1.541/4. For the purse $300, mile heats best 3 in 5, "Socks" knocked the party, beating Don Juan and Jenny Rose. Time 1.54-1.513/1-

.5184. THE LATE GEN. HENDERSON .- Brig. Gen. Archibald Henderson, of the U.S. marine corps, who died in Washington on the 6th inst., was a native of Virginia, entered the service in 1806, and rose to the rank of Lieut. Colonel Commandant in 1820. He commanded a battalion of marines in the Florida war against the Seminoles; he led the troops in the bloody and desperate engagement with the Indians on the Hatcheeluskic, January 27, 1837, and was breveted Brigadier-General for his gallant and efficient conduct while command ing the marines in Alabama, Florida, and Tennes see, against hostile savages. His life as a soldier exceeded half a century, and that whole period of service was illustrated by the noblest instances of manly courage and patriotic devotion.

ARREST OF GAMBLERS .- The Mayor of Pitts burgh is entering upon a crusade against the gamblers. A big haul was made Saturday even ing. Two common gamblers named M'Kee and Cox were arrested, together with about fifteen persons who were handling the chips. The Pittsburgh Dispatch says:

Cox was committed to answer the charge of Cox was committed to answer the charge of being a common gambler, and in default of $2,000 bail. M'Kee is in Louisville, Ky., and consequently escaped immediate arrest. Wilson will donbtless be held to answer to-day. Those in attendance (and there was a member of Council for a neighboring city among them) will be held as witnesses against the principals of these establishments.

It is said that Cox is a fugitive from justice—having fled from Terre Hante. Ind., where an in-

Double Murder by A Horse Think.-Informa

They were pursuing a horse thief in the Cherokee Nation, when he turned and shot and killed both. Stewart and turned and shot and killed both. Stewart and his companion had overtaken and arrested the borse thief, and were returning with him to Eldorado. They supposed they had theroughly disarmed the villian, but it seems that he had a revolver secreted upon his person which they did not discover. While stopping at a hotel on the road the thief asked Mr. Stewart to call the landlord and "they would have some fun." Stewart not suspecting, stepped to the door, and hardly cleared it when the wretch drew a revolver and shot Mr. of yesterday, has details of California intelligence it when the wretch drew a revolver and shot Mr. Palmer, killing him on the spot. Stewart heard the report of the pistol and immediately sprang to the door, but as he opened it, the villian shot him also, killing him instantly. The Southern Pacific Railroad. Editors Louisville Courier :- At present the chief cry seems to be the Pacific Railroad and Cnha. I hope, with all my heart, that the Southern Pacific R. R. will be built. It will assuredly prove the best paying road, and the one presenting the most favorable circumstances of shortness of location in onr agricultural country-not far from sea ports on the Gulf of Mexico, of mild climate, etc. But I do not think private enterprise sufficiently powerful in any respect to accomplish this stupendons undertaking. The General Goverument alone can reasonably assume the great liabilities attendant on such a work; it alone is capable of sustaining the prolonged struggle ere this work will be completed. However, onr citizens throughout the U. States seem to be at work in good carnest, and I regret that local interest prevents unity of plan, though their spirit and enthusiasm may spur on the Government to com mence active operations.

The Largest Land Case before the Supreme Court. [Correspondence of the New York Evening Post.] Washington, Jan. 7, 1959.

A very important land case is being argued be fore the Supreme Court, now in assison in this city, between the United States vs. John A. Sutter.— It is a matter of great interest to the property holders of Sacramento. Sutter claims thirty-three square leagues of land, lying upon the Sac-ramento, Feather, and American rivers, under wo grants-one of eleven leagues, made by Gov B. Alvarado in 1541, and the other twenty-two eagues, made by Gov. Micheltorens in 1845. The nited States deny the gennineness and validity of each of these grants upon many grounds, and further contend that if the grants are genuine and valid, they subrace within their limits the land lying south of the Three Peaks and between the Sacramento and Feather rivers, and no land to the south or east of the Feath er river. Two sets of counsel appear for Sutter, both acting under written powers of Attorney, and these counsel endeavor to locate the land different manners John J Crittenden and R J. Walker endeavor to locate it so that it shall ex-tend to the south of American river, and include the whole city of Sacramento. Benj. F. Butler and N. S. J. Green, of M. ssachusetts, who also appear for Sutter, endeavor to locate the land north and west of Feather river, and claim that that was the original intent of Sutter in asking for, and of the Governor in making the grant, and that such a location would also be for the best interests of Sutter.

At the opening of the case Mr. Crittenden stated that the coursel who claimed to appear for Sutter, and locate his land north and west of Feather river, had no authority to appear as coun-sel, and moved that they be excluded from the grand ceremonies. LOUISVILLE:

Hon Beriah Magoffin.

The Eighth of January Convention, in nominat ing the Hon. Beriah Magoffin for Governor, gave to the Democracy of Kentucky an unexceptionable candidate. The delegates who opposed Magoffin in the convention were not against him upon any other grounds than those of personal preferences for others. Boyd, and Talbott, and Hise, and Mc Creary, and Bradley had their friends in the convention, but not one of those friends were politically opposed to Magoffin. They were all glad to see him nominated when the favorite of each was

The convention which has put foward Magoffin was the largest ever held in Kentucky. The city of Frankfort never held so many delegates at one time. The public houses were all overflowed and the streets a tide of men. Many had not where to lay their head for sleep, and found little to eat while awake. If Frankfort don't grow larger and build more honses of entertainment by the time of the hoiding of the next convention, another place will have to be sought to accommo date the hosts of the Democracy.

As said before, the nomination of Magoflin will give universal salisfaction. He is a gentlemau and a scholar. Flueut of speech, affable of manper, and popular of address, he will make a good impression wherever he goes. He made himself popular in the race of 1855, while canvassing the State for Lieut. Governor, and he will become fur more popular in 1855 while making the race for the first office. He will get all the Democratic votes, and many Old-Line Whigs, and may be, a few Know Nothings.

Mr. Magoffin is now in the prime of life. He is position with eminent distinction. a native of Mercer county, where he now resides Ilis grandfather, Samuel McAfee, a pioneer of the Old Dominion, settled in this county in 1775. The unme and the family are familiar to every Kentuckian, connected as they are with some thrilling incidents in our early history.

He was sent to Center College at an early age, was one of the only three Democrats there. Extraordinary efforts were made to convert him to another faith than the Democratic, but without avail. He was horn a Democrat, he carried his ocracy through school and through college, and he expects to die a Democrat-not, however, until he has been Governor of Kentucky, and done many good things for his party beyond the offices of Chief Executive of the State.

The political career of Mr. Magoffin began in 1:40, when he was but a voutb. He mounted the stump, and did what he could to quell the disturbances that had been created in the land by log cabins and hard cider. His speeches were the admiration of all who heard them in that campaign, and were considered first class States Rights efforts. In 1844, when Gen Butler was a candidate for Governor, Mr. M. was appointed elector for the l'ifth District, and although it was overwhelmingly Whig at the time, after one of the fiercest contests ever waged in Kentneky, except that of 1555,) he carried the district by nearly 500 votes; and if the other districts had done as well, the gallant old General would have been elected by a handsome majority. In 1848 se was appointed assistant elector for the State at large, and canvassed nearly half of the State. In 1850 he was elected without opposition to the Senate of Kentucky, the duties of which station weeks, and years, without such a work. be discharged, as admitted by all parties, with distinguished ability. In 1855 he was the nominee of the Democratic party for Lieutenant Governor, and as such canvassed the entire Stateonly failing of an election in that hitter contest by 8,674 votes, the majority against Magoffin being much less than against any other candidate on the ticket. He was a delegate for the State at large to the Cincinnati Convention, in 1856, and was again elector for his own district, which gave an overwhelming majority for the Democratic nominees While he was in the Senate of Kentucky, he took an active part in the cause of popular education. He was the draughtsman of the common school hill, under which our State education now progresses. The children who are now being educated under the provisions of that bill, and the parents of those children, will not forget Mr. Magoffin in Angust next. He will be voted for not only as a partizan, but as a patriot, devoted to the great cause of education. His moral character is without stain, his political without a hlemish, and, take him all in all, he is the man for the time and place to which the proud Democracy have destined him. He will carry the State Ballentine, and the young man has, in consequence, been expelled from the college. He was also tried by the civil authorities for the misdemeanor, and fined the snm of $50. by at least twenty thousand, and there is no telling what majority he will get. The Democracy must make up a complimentary vote for him as a reward for his defeat in 1855; but there is no necessity for giving him more than forty thousand majority. He is entitled to twenty thousand as the strength of his party, and we think that an equal number as a compliment will suffice. We bope, therefore, that the Democracy will make up their minds not to clear him by now than the Unit of the Cornolan to Miss Mary Bows. their minds not to elect him hy more than forty thousand majority.

TRIBUTE FROM AN OPPONENT.-The Democracy are fortunate in having as their candidate for Governor a gentleman who personally does not offer a vulnerable point to his opponents, and who politically has an escntcheon without atain or blemish. Even the bitterest enemies of Democracy are compelled to concede the high personal worth of Mr. Magoffin. In an article on his nomination, the Frankfort Commonwealth, a violent "Opposition" paper, says:

He is an amiable, social, genial gentleman; dis-penses an elegant hospitality in his own mansion; is honorable and scrupulously honest in all his-private business transactions, and altogether is too clever a man to be the leader of the party which he belongs.

The great feature of the convention was the triumph of the Breckinridge interest over the Boyd party, the zealous supporters of the Le-compton policy of the Administration.

The above is a portion of the telegraphic dispatch sent to the eastern press, giving the proceedings of the Kentucky Democratic State Convention. If the individual who sent it means to say that Magoffin's success over Boyd was a triumph over Lecomptonism-and his words are evidently deaigned to convey that impression-he is a most intense liar. Both Magoffin and Boyd were warm ly and thoroughly in favor of the Lecompton policy of the Administration, and that question did not have the slightest influence in the ballotings between them. It was never for a moment thought of, as in that respect both gentlemen stood precisely on an equal footing. The class of 1829 of Harvard College dined together on the 6th inst. The Boston Courier of the 7th says the class, when graduated, numbered fifty-eight, of which only thirteen have died, an answally small number. Of the forty-five living, thirty were present at the dinner yesterday.

SCIOTO No. 2, Ballard, Hende THE RIVER was falling rather slowly, vesterday with seven feet water in the canal, by the mark This would make nearly eight feet water for steamboats. During the previous 24 hours the river had receded four or five inches at the head of the falls. On the falls there were five feet water in the pass, or dug ciute. The weather was mild and delightfully pleasant.

The warm weather has made the river commence rising again at Pittsburgh, as will be seen by our dispatches, in another column. At Cincinnati it was failing slowly.

Last evening, a heavy mist and fog settled on the river, making it hazardous for boats to run, and all that was out would have to the un until and all that were out would have to tic up until it cleared off. Business was rather dull at the wharf, yesterday, and most of the packets were receiving but slim freights. The Southerner, however, for Memphis, got a big trip of freight. She was loaded to the guards with merchandize, liquors, and manufactured articles.

FOR WABASH .- The new steamer Caroline, Capt. iller, a neal, slannch boat, takes her departure to the Wabash to day.

FOR TENNESSEE.-The favorite packet Time, Capt. Johnson, takes her departure to all landings along Tennessee river, this afternoon. The clerk, A. McVay, is one of the most courteous and prompt on the river. The Gazel goes to Pittsburgh this after

The Conestoga, a new tow boat, came in from Pittsburgh with a large fleet of tow boats, containing no less than 1 10,000 bushels of coal for New Orleans. The boats are drawing six feet, which is too much water for the falls, and the tow boat is said to be too big for the canal, and she cannot prosecute her voyage South until the river rises.
Yesterday Capt. Wm. Dawson, of Warrenton an old boatman, started South with a brace of flatboats isden with coal, the rear guard of the tleet, and probably the last pair of boats to start South on the present water.

We learn from the Ciucinnati Commercial, f vesterday, that the bull of Capt. Davidson's new Minnesota river packet, built at Symmes creek, arrived in tow of the Boston. It is a nice little sidewheel clipper. The machinery is being completed at the Niles' Works.

The Fort Wayne, from New Orleans, with 1,500 barrels of molasses for upper ports hilds of sugar-a heavy freight-ran fou of the bank, in the log no doubt, and sprung a leak. She stopped at Evansville, on Monday, where protest was entered. The flying Alvin Adams is due from

The Southerner, on Tnesday evening, just at dusk, on her way up the river, ran foul of a pair of coalboats, causing one to sink. The coalboats were under the shade of the shore, right under the point, and the steamer was almost on them before they were aware of it. She stopped her engines, and then "backed." but the forward guard struck one of the boats in the bow and store in the bulkhead.— Capt. Triplett then took the crippled boat in tow, and beached it on the sand-bar just oelow, where it now lies in shoal water-the coal all safe The cost boats belong to McClusker, of Pittsburgh. The loss cannot be much. The Southerner lay by with the boats some three hours, and brought the erew of the sunken bost to the The other boat went ahead. The crew port. The older boat went anead. The Kate Prench brought up from the wreck of the Metropolis yesterday, about 150 tons of miscellaneous freight to be sold here to the highest bidder. The other partion of her cargo has gone to Louisville. The Metropolis is in a wretched condition. The "76" has engagements for 600 tons of Iron to ome out of the Cumberland.

Success. It is said that there is considerable freight at Madison for reshipment to the South.

The Conewago was engaged all day yesterday receiving 150 tons of bridge timber above here, for the Cumberland river.

The Moses Greenwood has been soil to A. Shinkie by the U.S. Marchal here for $1,225.

NASHVILLE PACKET.—The Tempest, Capt. Parr, is the regular and permanent packet for Nashville and all Cumberland river landings this eveuing. She starts at 4 o'clock from the city wharf, and will provide comfortably for passengers, as well as to take good care of freight.

The John Warner will also de well to finish her trip to this port. The Lowa, from the Ohio, which laid up in the Ice at Rozier's, will doubtless arrive in port to-day.

THE JOHN RAINE.—This packet was taken into the canal docket yesterday, to fully repair the damage sustained by her collision with the sunk-en coalboat on the falls. One or two planks above the keelson were broken. Her cargo was not hurt, and she probably got out last evening. The Switzerland has a lot of Mason county tobacco on board, for the New Orleans market.

The Evansville Journal advocates a reduction of tolls charged steamboats for passing through the locks of Green river. It says tolls amount to sums varying from $200 to $400 per trip, and the amount paid in the course of a year for tolls by the packets that make weekly trips is frequently more than the cost of the boat.

The Hiawatha, from New Orleans, was at Cairo Monday, with 100 tons of groceries for Chicago, and 160 tons for Cincinnati. She met ice as far down as Hickman, and will rest awhile at Cairo. The following in reference to the wild West, is from the St. Lonis Republican of yesterday.

Mr. Brown, of Miss., argued equally against the constitutionality and necessity of the road. He ontended that the Constitution gave power to construct works where the necessity was immed ate, whereas, we have no need of this road, and will not have for a century to come.

Mr. Bigler, of Pa., after some general remarks on the bill, showed that while it made provision for the construction over the rich country on both sides of the mountains, it was inadequate for the mountainous and desert region between. His iews were to divide the route into three division -Eastern, Western, and middle-to be completed in 25 mile sections, and to withhold the propor-tion of aid from the Western and Eastern, until the middle section was completed.

Mr. Foster, of Conn., reminded Senators of the necessity of haste, as only 42 working days of the ession now remained.

session now remained.

Mr. Pugh, of Ohio; Mr. Allen, of R. I., and others, took brief parts in the debate.

Mr. Doolittle, of Wis., explained the provisions of his substitute for the whole bill. (This substitute was published in the Globe, of yesterday.)

Mr. Bigler here moved an amendment, in effect that the read he located by the work of the state of the state of the cost of the state of th that the road be located between the 27th and 45d degrees of latitude. Mr. Houston, of Texas, spoke in favor of the El l'aso route, and asked, why rule out all the south to the southward of the 37th degree. During the 12 or 14 years he had occupied a seat in the Senate, the manifestations of sectional jealousy had caused him deep and unspeakable re-gret. He had never heard that chord struck without pain. It seemed to him as if gentlemen whose talents should be applied to perpetuate the Union, have devised causes of disagreement between the North and South. When he first head the cry of disunion, (it was in the other House,) he thought it treason, and thought the individual who uttered it should have been crucified. It is not more acceptable now, although more familia: Discusion: as well hope to have a healthy patient fyou cut out the main artery of his life. Will concut the Mississippi in two? Who will have its sources? who its mouth? and will the great West suffer itself to be bereft of either?

Gentlemen have spoken for the mouth, as they held its destines in the hollow of thei hands. He, himself, was boru in the South. N man has broader interests than he, for his all i there. Thus he, too, represented the South There are those in the South who pray for har-mony and union—men strong in holy fealty for their country and the Constitution. It would be easier for one Sta e to come back, than for others to go out with it. The moment it goes out it assumes the attitude of rebellion. Let the wise men f the South turn their heads towards the Union not eriminating and re-criminating; reflecting not talking. Let the gentlemen of the North abstaifrom bitterness on the Southern institutions. While it is the policy of the North to escherolated it is the policy of the North to escherolated it is the policy of the North to escherolated. slavery, it is the necessity of the South to main tain it. He did not join in the talk of Southern rights. The South has no rights except those of the North, and the North none except those of the South. It is a cant phrase, tending to influence the popular passions. As regards the negroes what better use can be made of them? We did not bring them here. We did not engage in the slave trade, at least, until recently, and, said least brand that as an act of unmitigated infamy He concluded his remarks by counseling the people to live in harmony and cultivate the ad-vantages God has given them as an united na

Mr. Douglas, of Ills., spoke against the re-con miltal of the bill. He refrained from discussing the main question, but protested against the 27th outh, but was in favor of the best road, wherever ocated. He desired the road, or roads, to loudt, and had no doubt of the constitutional hereof. He would permit the contractors to I eate the route, as he was unwilling to leave the ocation of it to the political action of the Govern

That was umbug. Mr. Iverson believed, as he did in own existence, that it is the settled design of

Northern States to break down the institution by the Southern States.

Mr. Houston rose to reply, but Mr. Polk obtain d the floor, and prevented further debate by toving an adjournment, which was agreed to.

Horss.—Howard said that pending a motion, a radical change was proposed in the business of the House without a change of rules. The Commit tee of Ways and Means have been obliged to star like a rock against extravagant expenditures. Il had never heard of the other committees reducing amounts below the estimate. They alway ment amount to $82,000,000 per annum. Thise travagance resulted from our system of legisl tion, and from the fact that the Committee Ways and Means merely carry out the recom-mendations of the heads of various departments. This committee have not time to devote to such a arge amount of business. Hence there sho e, as far as practicable, an equalization of du-Jones, of Tenn., thought the pending propos ions would obstruct business and produce con-usion. By an adherence to the rules, all meastusion. By an adherence to the rules, all meas nres could be intelligently and properly consider Without voting on the question, the Hous went into a Committee of the Whole on the stat of the Union on the President's message.

Mr. Jenkins, of Va., said that while the Hou restorday, was discussing dead issues, they lo ight of the fact that the British Minister is n gotiating a treaty with Central America, and om this proceeding we shall share like the doves from the protecting care of the hawk. He sup-ported the resolution beretofore reported to the House, requiring the President to take such steps as may, in his judgment, result in the steps as may, in his judgment, result in the speedy abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which was the result of European diplomacy. He contended that we derive no advantage from it, and asserted that England is unfaithful to its full fillment, and that it is a constant and fruitful source of Irritation and animosity between the contracting partics. The treaty should be abrogated for two reasons. First—because Great Britain had no right in Contral Amer. A outside of the treaty, and secondly—because her pretensions to protectorates over portions of Central sions to protectorates over portions of Central America are founded solely on that treaty.

Mr. Giddings, of Ohio, said the President, in his message, proceeded upon the principle that Government has a right to transform human beings into property. The framers of the Constitution proclaimed the great fundamental truth on which the Republican parts is becard window. f the subject of the power possessed by slave

When gentlemen asked for the modification of the Republican platform, he would say there is no neutral ground between freedom and tion of the Kepublican platform, he would say there is no neutral ground between freedom and slavery. The basis of the Republican party is fundamental, and cannot be changed.

Mr. Bowie, of Md., made a discursive speech, incidentally supporting slavery, and saying that every old federalist who was in favor of the alien and sedition laws, was a Black Republican.

The committee then rose, and the House adjourned.

Washington, Jan. 12.—General Juarez having, by the resignation of Yrissari, been left the sole representative here of Nicaragua, has been recognized as such by our Government. Hon. Beverly Tucker says there is not a word of ruth in the report that he intends resigning the Norris, on one side, and Reaney, Nea-fie & Co., on the other, for the contract for the machinery of the sloop-of-war number 2, now building at Philadelphia. COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER, WEDNESOAY EVENING, Jan. 12. The market is undanbtedly active for groceries, auamong the dry goods dealers and johhers, but in produce and provisions there is comparatively nothing deing .-The supplies of nearly all kinds of produce are very light, with light stocks reported, and prices are cultano ed. Breadstuffs, both at home and abroad, are con manding better rates, and indicats that an advance will be maintained. As regards provisions, conflicting opinions are entertained, and we will only give facts as the are obtained. The slock of pork in our market is in excases of last year, and including old bacon on hand, we think the stock of bacon quite abundant. Prices of port at all the leading ports have been actually lower than o rates, which, of course, prevents all export domand, and he transactions are very light. The Commercial Review of Saturday, publishes returns from 141 packing point the West, which shows an aggregale increase of 23,-760 hogs over the previous year, with, however, a great falling of in the weight of the hogs at nearly all points excepting Kentucky. On comparing the returns of th Review, we find several mistakes and omlasions, as well as wrong additions. The returns from Missourl foot up .000 more hogs than rsported, and in the the total for ngs up, there is snother mistake of 20,000 hogs, which added to the estimated increase, set down at 25,760, an an lucrease of 27,000 in the pasking in Keokuk, Iowa this season, makes the actual incresse this season, as far as heard from, $4,760 hogs. Here we will remark that Louisville mess pork is better than a y other, and our brands generally commands premium over the Cincinnat packing. The full returns have not yet been received ut we have no doubt that it will fully equal, if not exseed, the past year in numbers, with a decrease in the quantity of lard made. At this time last year, mess por was selling at $12 50 ln this market, and less than $15 in New York. Now It is held here at $1750, with an up ward tendency, and but very light sales. This season upwards of half a million of hogs were packed in th city of New York, showing a great increase over former years. To show that fat hogs are produced in othe places, we annex the following exhibit of hogs relsed 1 Butier county, Ohio, and packed in Camden. Ws give them as follows : $16 head, net average.
